What is constructor? Mention the task of the constructor

ANS: The constructor is a method that is called when an object is created. This method is defined in the class and can be used to initialize basic variables